HEINONLINE'S
FOREIGN AND INTERNATIONAL LAW RESOURCES DATABASE
(FILRD)

"The whole world is in some manner one nation."

– De Vitoria, De Potestate Civili 21

Francisco de Vitoria

As International Law continues to play a prominent role in the legal arena, access to an online collection to assist in researching the evolution of this important area of law is essential.

HeinOnline* has now closed the gap in the void of online access to important international law research documents!

In addition, the current dilemma facing international law researchers today, which is the inability to easily search across multiple international law titles in print format, is now an afterthought with the availability of HeinOnline's* Foreign and International Law Resources Database!

HEINONLINE'S FOREIGN AND INTERNATIONAL LAW RESOURCES DATABASE (FILRD)

James Kent

“Nations are equal in respect to each other, and entitled to claim equal consideration for their rights, whatever may be their relative dimensions or strength or however greatly they may differ in government, religion or manners”.

—James Kent

With HeinOnline's FILRD, researchers are now able to easily search or browse online through the treasures of some of the world's best international law publications, from the in-depth coverage of publications of the American Society of International Law and prominent Yearbooks from around the world to the Hague Permanent Court of International Justice series and the publications of dozens of other highly-respected publishers. Altogether, the first release contains more than 500,000 pages of content (nearly 675 volumes)!

For those familiar with other HeinOnline content, the Foreign and International Law Resources Database contains documents from inception in an image-based (PDF) and fully-searchable format. This ensures authenticity of the original document, saving research time and enhancing the value of this collection to the legal community.

FROM A RELIABLE RESOURCE

Since mid-2000, HeinOnline has changed online legal research as we know it. From a mere 250,000 pages of image-based (PDF) content and a handful of academic subscribers, HeinOnline now contains more than 25 million pages, with researchers accessing HeinOnline from more than 3,500 locations in over 150 countries. Now, HeinOnline is pleased to bring this critically valuable FILRD collection to the world.

FLEXIBILITY – SEPARATE FROM YOUR HEINONLINE PACKAGE SUBSCRIPTION, AND NOW AVAILABLE AT SPECIAL PRICES FOR EARLY SUBSCRIBERS

At the request of many HeinOnline subscribers in search of a better online foreign and international law collection, we have developed this new library module for those wishing to enhance their own collections. MORE CONTENT COMING SOON!!!

The content on the previous page is only the beginning! Future content releases in this unique collection will include works from such notable researchers as Hugo Grotius, Francisco de Vitoria, Francisco Suárez, Samuel von Pufendorf, Immanuel Kant, Jeremy Bentham, and Hans Kelsen to name just a few. Additional Yearbooks, Periodicals and other invaluable works from publishers such as the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace and others related to International Law will also be included in future content releases. As with all other HeinOnline library modules, suggestions from subscribers will also shape the future of the FILRD collection.

AFFORDABLE FOR MOST RESEARCH LIBRARIES, AND DESCENDING RENEWAL SUBSCRIPTIONS!

Descending Subscriptions!

At the suggestion of many HeinOnline subscribers wishing for affordable renewal prices for online databases, we have developed a pricing model for the FILRD collection that is attractive to most customers. While prices vary based on size and type of institution, renewal subscriptions in the first several years will actually decrease, providing greater opportunities for all libraries to continue subscribing.

Considering the cost to purchase the titles in this collection in a hardbound format is in excess of $100,000.00, HeinOnline's FILRD is THE most affordable method for gaining access to world-class foreign and international law content. Adding to the fact that researchers can now search across multiple titles throughout the collection, a print format would still not provide you with the ability to mine the incredible content of these important research documents.

CONTENT OWNERSHIP IS ALSO AN OPTION

In addition, for those wishing to own much of the content in HeinOnline's FILRD library, we are offering a content ownership subscription plan. With an initial subscription and a commitment to subscribe for a minimum of three years, your library is eligible to own much of the content in the FILRD collection should you experience a dramatic drop in your budget and be forced to cancel.

To place your order for this historically unique collection of international law content, simply contact marketing@wshein.com today.

*Subscription prices in year 5 and beyond will be determined based on overall subscriber support and content.
